

ENJOYING WINTER AT ZION PONDEROSA

Roads & Snow: We normally see light amounts of snow at Zion Ponderosa, but occasionally can experience deep snow. Come prepared to enjoy the winter weather. All area roads are plowed, but remember that it takes some time to clear roads after a snow storm.

Activities: This time of year is very quiet in Zion National Park. You may just have the park to yourself, and the drive through the park is open year-round. Winter daytime temperatures are usually quite perfect for hiking, and there are many trails that you'll find particularly spectacular in winter. Look for wild turkeys, bighorn sheep, eagles, deer, and other wildlife that are often much more visible during this season.

Vacation Homes: Our vacation homes are open all winter long, and this can be the perfect time to getaway and experience the serenity of our forested plateau above Zion National Park.

Services: Standard resorts operations are not available from December through early March. This includes our restaurant, and activities.

Pre-arranged catering and grocery services will be available through January 2, 2013. Come and enjoy your gatherings in our vacation homes, and let us take care of your dining needs.

Destination: We are five miles up the North Fork road and off the beaten path. That is part of what makes your experience so great, so please remember to have clear instructions on how to get here, especially if you are traveling after dark.
